Doctor Overbuild from Lego Universe features 4 custom sculpted, molded, and cast pieces (helmet, goggles, backpack, and armor), has hand painted parts along with custom decals, and took over a year to make.

Gregor from Clone Wars features full wrapping digital camo that is screen-accurate in design and color to the TV show. There were no templates to help with making the helmet, so it took a lot of hand-fitting to get correct, making it a very technically challenging application.
