Subscriptions are available for as long as you want. Some of you seem to think we're going to be here doing this forever and have sent us lots of nice money in advance. Optimistic suckers, aren't they? Aaaaaanyway, it's a paltry mere trifle of:
$3.00 per year in the U/S. and Canada. Elsewhere:
hell, we don't know- we've never sold anything elsewhere. Make it $7 a year, you dumb foreigners, if you're out there. Okay, what else....Oh, if you think we're going to fill this whole space with new stuff you are sadly mistaken! We are about to launch into a rehash of what we said last time.
Submissions are welcome however no responsibility can be accepted for unsolicited manuscripts, photographs, art-work or letters of any kind even if we use them and give you no credit and sell them and make money on them. If we do it's just too damn bad- you were warned. Nothing may be reprinted in whole or in part without written permission from the publisher and try and get it.
CRAZY HIP GROOVY GO-GO WAY OUT MONSTERS is sold subject to these conditions and shall not, (without that elusive old written permission of the publisher and/or a note from your mom) be resold, used for toilet paper (which this is in fact printed on) or otherwise disposed of by way of trade except at the full retail price and shall not be crushed, flushed, lent, bent, bindled, spindled (whatever that means), smoked, mutilated, perforated, masticated, rolled up, used to wrap fish or line cat litter boxes or anything like that for profit except through our national distributor, his uncle, and the authorized distributors. Unless you're willing to split it with us. We can talk about that.
Otherwise don't get any bright ideas, you punks!
SUBSCRIBER CHANGE OF ADDRESS- Give us some notice, for crying out loud and don't whine to us if you don't. Be patient, you'll get it sooner or later.
But if not, you have no recourse unless you can find us somehow and we make sure that ain't easy.

PS- For those who care, this is actually the second issue of CHGGGWOM and it's copyright 2004 Von Sholly and Van Cleave and published by TwoMorrow Publishing, 10407 Bedfordtown Dr., Raleigh, NC 27614, bless their hearts!

The Paul Blazedull monster on our creepy cover is "IT! The Attacking
She Beast That Conquered the World from Beyond Space Without End!" Paul wore the fabulous suit himself and almost died when the director, Codger Goreman, insisted he be dropped from a helicopter at the film's fiery finale! Glad you're

FUTURE SHOCKS

CHGGGWOM is always trying to keep you greedy little GORE-GOERS up to date on the latest monsters that HORRORWOOD is conjuring up. Here's a list of the current crop of creepy crap that will be oozing its way into a mausoleum near you very soon! However your old editor has noticed that since there has been a huge outcry against horror movies and horror comics of late, the sneaky studios are attempting to weave a more homespun sort of thread into all our favorite flicks! We're not sure if the similar references in these titles involve sequels or are merely a desperate attempt to soft-pedal the gorefests a little bit with a more lighthearted approach to ward off parental disapproval. At any rate, here is our fear forecast of films in production or scheduled for the coming NEW FEAR:

TWENTY MILLION MILES TO MOM
EARTH VERSUS YOUR MOM
THE AMAZING COLOSSAL MOM

DINOSTARS

PREHYSTERICAL MONSTERS RULE THE SCREEN!

Kenneth Tightjaw and Verona Virvo cringe from one of the menacing giant prehistoric behemoths inhabiting THE PLANET THAT JUST HAPPENED TO LOOK LIKE BARSTOW!

DINO FILM HISTORY

From the earliest days of film it didn't take long for moviemakers to discover the extreme exploitability of monsters for profit. Such early efforts were the testing ground for what would become a cottage industry of fakakta cheaply made cinematic mishaps which became the formula for decades of pathetic prehistoric animal movies that are among the most loved fantaflicks ever committed to film.

Animonster forefather Willis O'Bunion, was among the first to put dinosaurs on the screen in his silent shorts. Er, with his silent shorts... wait a minute- they were in silent short films, okay? 1926's PREHISTORIC PUTZ and THE HAIRLESS MONKEYMAN (a precursor of the O'Bunion classic, KING GORILLA) both displayed animated dinosaurs cavorting about and pretty much setting the mold for all that followed in the genre of DINOCINEMA. Lost islands, plateaus, even whole continents and prehistoric planets served as the settings for a veritable horde of scientists, astronauts, plane crash and shipwreck victims to stumble into the lairs of dinosaurs and other supposedly extinct animals.

These creatures were presented by means of stop-motion animation (rarely), live lizards enlarged via special effects (frequently), guys in baggy rubber dino-suits (way too often!) to unbelievably crummy (but thankfully rare) hand puppets and marionettes. And of course the stiff-as-a-dead-canary mechanical dinosaurs (a fair amount). The other theme, exploited above all else of course, is the budget saving device of turning the monster loose in a city or anywhere else!

Dinosaurs flicks are almost a sub-genera unto themselves and here is without doubt THE most popular approach to these things: A "scientist" or some such (wading through long minutes of stock footage of glaciers, volcanoes and whatnot) stumbles upon a frozen or somehow preserved specimen which promptly comes to life and runs amok, destroying as much of a city as the budget will allow. This can be massive as in the 1955 film, GODZOOKY, or almost totally bereft of anything one would call settings as in 1957's THE BEAST OF EMPTY HILL. In the last reel a way to rid the world of the prehistoric pest is always discovered, frequently by the scientist responsible for the calamity in the first place. And the audience is then able to wake up and exit the theatre.

We at CHGGGWOM hope you enjoy this fabulous parade of timeless, witless prehistoric programmers that have roared, drooled, and stumbled their way across the endless swamp we call movie magic!

ABOVE- DINONAUT INVADER chows down on the scientist whose stupid satellite brought it here! BELOW- VAVOOM- THE THING THAT ATE ONLY PRETTY GIRLS gets its licks in!

LOOK AT THIS LIST

OF CHILLING CHAPTERS

CHAPTER 1- Getting started. What and who you will need. How to find victims and swear them to silence in case things go wrong!. How to avoid parental interference. Do's, Don'ts and Don't-say- you-got-it-from-us's!

CHAPTER 2- Where to get crap. Where in the kitchen, garage or under sinks you can find the stuff you need. What works best is often handy! Dangerous- but handy!

CHAPTER 3- Make-ups using food! Many fine effects can be achieved using milk, eggs, bacon and cornflakes. Eat the damn things when you're finished too!

CHAPTER 4- Nose Putty, Caulk and Clay. Many startling "new noses" can be achieved with fishhooks, meat-hooks, or a simple left hook! And listen- don't be a baby! If it was good enough for Lom Hinkey, it should be plenty good enough for you!

CHAPTER 5- Creating weird skin textures!

Most nerdy kids like you already have weird skin textures, but if not, use sandpaper, matches and crazy glue to get results!

CHAPTER 6- Artificial eyes. Ping pong balls, kids. Ping pong balls. 'Nuff said!

CHAPTER 7- False teeth. Sneak into grandma or grandpa's room some night! Start with the ones in that glass !

CHAPTER 8- Bald head cap. Rubber balloons, silly putty, etc. -make caps from many household items. AND always remember if you get in a pinch- hair grows back!

CHAPTER 9- Hair! Wigs, Beards etc. Harder to get than some items, but remember- hair grows back! Your little brother can wear a hat for a while! WARNING- hair does NOT grow back on fur coats and rugs- but you can always say say you didn't know that! You're a stupid kid- what do they expect anyway?

CHAPTER 10- Advanced Make-ups! But let's face it, most of you will never get this far. You will outgrow this childish baloney and start chasing girls by then. In fact, you won't even need makeups! Nature will make you into pimply gangly hairy monsters all by itself!

CHAPTER 11- There is no chapter eleven!

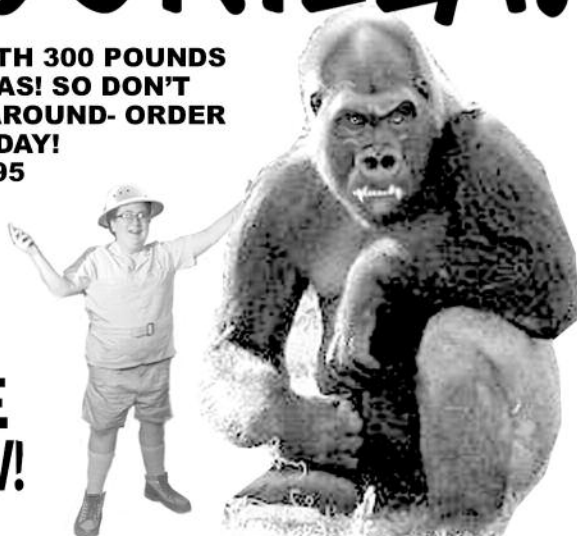

KIDS! GET YOUR OWN LIVE GORILLA!

YES! a pet GORILLA of your very own! Be the first on your block to have a primitive pal and be the envy of everyone! This sourpuss simian comes in a special iron-barred cage in chains made of chrome steel! It will be right at home in your garage! Teach it to lift huge pianos with broads on top! Train it to not tear your arm off every time you get close to it! Have fun trying to find dinosaurs and airplanes for it to fight! Or just let it loose at school and watch the action! You'll have hours of fun watching it throw crap at your dad as he tries to figure out how to get rid of it! Please note that sometimes these hairy guys don't, exactly always travel well. They may even arrive at your doorstep as a fetid rotten mess but don't CRY for Chrissakes! You can always stuff 'em for display or skin 'em and make a super halloween costume! You can't lose!

CRAZY HIP GROOVY GO-GO WAY OUT MONSTERS #32

PETE VON SHOLLY's spoofs of monster mags will have you laughing your pants off—right after you soil them from sheer terror! This RETRO MONSTER MOVIE MAGAZINE is a laugh riot lampoon of those GREAT (and absolutely abominable) mags of the 1950s and '60s, replete with fake letters-to-the-editor, phony ads for worthless, wacky stuff, stills from imaginary films as bad as any that were really made, interviews with their "creators," and much more! Relive your misspent youth (and misspent allowance) as you dig the hilarious photos, ads, and articles skewering OUR FAVORITE THINGS of the past!

Dear Ed,
I want to tell you how much CHGGGWOM! It's given me life! None of the other kids I know like monster movies like I am. I'm nothing to do with a "weird" kid who talks incessantly about monster movie magazines, model kits, makes home movies, dresses up in monster makeup, it wasn't for you guys I don't do! Thanks and keep this coming!

ARNIE PHAROS

Thanks, Arnie! We don't know what you want to know) what you'd like either! But we feel like we're performing a public service just by keeping you in your room and off the street for a few hours each month. Readers like you almost make us wish we could publish this flingflanging magazine a little more frequently. Don't get discouraged... you will either grow out of this childish obsession, be put away, OR actually end up working in the motion picture biz! Best, -ed.

Dear Chig,
I recently picked up your magazine and was stunned by the complete lack of taste, inept attempts at "writing" and the ludicrous (not to mention suspect) "fotos" as you so quaintly call them from tawdry horror films etc. Never has there been such an obvious attempt to separate the public from their money with such complete disregard for all artistic and literary standards. You should be ashamed of yourselves.

Dear CHIGGMEN,
I have sent you countless reams of photos of me in various costumes and makeups, not to mention my 8mm home-made monster movies. When am I gonna see some of ME in the mag?

William (Willy) Nilly
Chicagga, Illinoise

Dear WWW,
Firstly, we've had to rent a warehouse down at the docks just to house the millions of pieces of mail you've sent us! We thought we were really doing well till we discovered that all this stuff was from one little nutty kid! Why don't you print your own magazine, you cute little self-promoting putz and give the US Postal system (not to mention your editor!) a break? However, I guess we shouldn't complain too much as during a recent coal shortage we were able to keep the entire building warm for 48 hours just from the photos alone. In closing, we are sending you the address of Arnie Fartsmeller... you two should really lit it off! -ed.

Dear Sirs,
I was sent away for the giant Frankenstink Castle advertised in the back of CHGGGWOM. After eight months it finally arrived and is nothing but a cardboard box with a castle printed on it! And it fell apart when it rained last night! Can I have my money refunded?

SAMMY CHUMPSTEIN
Tellingmy, MA

Dear Sammy,
It would be better if you consider your money spent as an investment in a life lesson. Life is full of disappointments. And... no.
